The Same Familiar Face, Whenever Possible

When a nursery needs cover for more than a day or two, we know how much it helps to see a familiar face rather than someone new each time.

Wherever we can, we send the same trusted candidate back to nurseries they have already worked in. Children settle faster, routines carry on as normal, and staff do not have to explain the basics all over again.

It is a small thing, but it makes a genuine difference, for the children, for staff, and for peace of mind.

A New Term Ahead

Whether your nursery closed over the summer or kept running right through, September still brings its own shift, new starters, changing ratios, and staffing needs that can look quite different to term time. Here is a reminder of how Class Cover can support you as things settle into the new term.

With Benedict's Law now in force, we want to reassure you that all candidates placed by Class Cover complete allergy and anaphylaxis awareness training as part of their compliance requirements, so you can be confident every member of staff we place understands their responsibilities from day one.

Beyond day to day staffing, our service is here to help with the bigger picture, recruitment planning, retention strategies, and working through wider staffing challenges as they come up.

If staffing feels like an ongoing headache rather than a one off problem, get in touch, we would love to help you get ahead of it rather than just reacting to it.
